The Flirty Texting Guide for 2026

A good flirty reply answers what they said, adds a little of you, and gives them something easy to reply to. This guide covers the six flirting styles, the four moods, how to text with confidence and respect, and a page to plan your next reply.

What makes a flirty reply work

A reply works when it fits their message and their energy. Answer what they said, add one playful detail about you, and end with a light question or hook so the chat keeps going. Keep it warm and respectful: charm and humour land better than anything forward, and they leave the other person room to play along.

Six tips for flirting through text

1. Be authentic. Use a generated reply as a start and change a word or two so it sounds like you.
2. Match their energy. Do not reply more intensely than they wrote to you.
3. Mind the timing. No need to answer in seconds, and no need to wait hours either.
4. Ask questions. Curiosity about them beats a string of compliments.
5. Use humour lightly. Teasing works when it is kind and fits your relationship stage.
6. Respect boundaries. If they seem uncomfortable, slow down or change the subject.

The six styles, with an example reply

Each example answers the same message, "You look amazing in that photo". Pick the style that sounds most like you.

| Style | Best for | Example reply |
|---|---|---|
| Playful | Light banter | Only in that photo? Ouch. I will have to try harder in person. |
| Romantic | Someone you really like | Coming from you, that just made my whole day. |
| Witty | Clever back-and-forth | I know, the lighting was doing its best. What was your excuse? |
| Bold | Clear interest | Then you should see it in person. Coffee this week? |
| Classy | Graceful, mature chats | That is very kind of you. You have excellent taste. |
| Mysterious | Building curiosity | Maybe. There is a story behind that photo I will tell you sometime. |
